SUNDAY, JANUARY 18, 1864.

THE RIVERS.

There is much talk at present respecting the stopping of the Orfeuil was steamer 33; if the attempte to pass Martin Garcia.

There is a sort of pressure brought to bear on President Mitre to induce him to give such orders. There is a willful blindness as to the ultimate consequence of such an act.

The island of Martin Garcia, belonging to the Argentine Government, is theirs, let who they like with, and the National Government has a good right to arm, fortify and defend that island as England has to do with Malta and Gibraltar.

If the rivers Parana and Uruguay were like the Sanborombon or Salado, flowing solely through Argentine territory, there would be some pretext for detaining vessels belonging to a nation with which we have ceased to continue on friendly terms. But Argentines are as much the proprietors of the Uruguay or Plate as they are of the South Atlantic, and as well might President Mitre send down Montevideo to stop a British war steamer bound from Montevideo to the Falkland Islands, as to give orders to implead the passage of Martin Garcia by 33.

We will not now question the right or title of Argentines to Martin Garcia. We let them in possession, and respect their tenure, but if President Mitre supposes that with his 82 ommons and 800 men he is going to shut the rivers against all the flags of the civilized world, he will only detect his error when his guns are spiked and fortifications swalled.

To justify the stoppage of the steamer 33, President Mitre must first declare war against the Government to which she belongs. If this formality is not observed, previous to the confiscation of the steamer, Murature will, according to all international and maritime law, be a pirate, and his vessel should be hunged at the yard-arm, by the first man-of-war which catches him.

The arming of Martin Garcia has caused a deal of jealousy. It behoves President Mitre, therefore, to be singularly circumspect in his conduct. He is wonderfully mistaken if he supposes that it is only President Herrera Government which looks with distrust on the guns of Martin Garcia.

If President Mitre cannot to hold Martin Garcia as a means of protection and defence, there are none who will dispute the right or question his right. But if Martin Garcia is to be converted into an Argentine Isguara, then indeed we say the sooner the treaties are repartted the better. So long as the waters of the Uruguay are open to the world, so long as the flags of all nations are entitled to the 'free navigation of the rivers, so long as these rights and privileges be guaranteed by treaties, which, we apprehend, must be respected, any attempt to stop an Oriental war steamer, can only lead to complications which must seriously disturb the peace of the River Plate.

EDITORS' TABLE.

The Pavon arrived yesterday morning bringing the 'Standard abroad' (M. G. Mulhall) and Minister Costa back from their travels. Thanks to the exertions of our brother we have succeeded in making the Standard office more like an Indian wigwam than an editor's sanctum—the bows and arrows of a Gran Chaco cacique hang over our ink bottles, and a splendid specimen of 'wild cotton' manufactured at Corrientes: the latter is a counterpane, apparently silk and wool mixed, presented to us by Governor Ingrahn. Our subscribers are invited to inspect the Standard museum of Guoyptian treasures before they are sent to England.

We perceive that one of our collegues calls the attention of the Chief of Police to the danger of having the doors of the Colon Theatre closed during he performances. We think it desirable that every in this city should keep at his worship until proper measures are taken for the security of life. The Colon is capable of containing in the theatre above some two thousand people. If any accident happened there, during a performance, it is more than probable that several hundreds would be lost. The proposition to have all the doors kept open by means of padlocks is deserving of attention.

Young Flores is still in a rather critical position, owing to the ball being still in his throat—his mother is exceedingly attentive to him, but he knows the matter with the coolness of a Shimpole—and states that he hopes to be able to join the army in a few days.

Samples of wild cotton growing most abundantly in Corrientes and Misiones were yesterday given to two English gentlemen who came out in the packet, who promise to forward it to some cotton manufactures in Liverpool. Cotton is last going almost in the River Plate. Paraguay will export this year about 250,000 bales.

The 'Pueblo' has at last made its appearance. It is very well got up, well edited, and we wish it every success. We understand that it has at present over seven hundred subscribers.

To-night Madame Briol appears in 'Norma,' at the Colon. We understand that she is in better voice than Lucca ever was in Buenos Ayres; the orchesra and chorus are greatly improved. We hope to see a full house to-night.

The subscribers to the 'Brazil and River Plate Mail' are increasing. Parties wishing to see the second number will please call at our office.

One of the most amusing sights about town is the new Argentine watering cart, which proceeds up and down Calle Rivadavia. The pipe for holding the water is the same as is usually seen in the streets, but the watering machine is composed of a piece of zinc, which the water passes under and out of which dish being perforated, the water drops down in the most slovenly manner. We do hope, that for the credit of Buenos Ayres, proper watering carts will be supplied.

The new resident board of directors of the Buenos Ayres Southern Railway Company consists of the following gentlemen:—Frank Parish, Esq, Chairman; Edward Zimmermann, Esq., and Sr. Santa Maria, Directors.

The steamers for the Bendos and Cocidos is talked of. M Hector Varela refuses to take part in politics until after the elections take place.

Mr. De Lave, we hear, is willing to take the steamer Murature, and an adequate sum is offered him by the public. It would really be a most desirable locality to see this celebrated artist performing, and we hope his services will be engaged.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

From Montevideo we learn that rumours were current in that city of insurgent army of 1,700 infantry, which he had brought from Salto in launches, had entered Paysandu. We suspect that this is only another version of the flight of the 8th.

Laudable Rule.—The police have ordered that the doors of the Solis theatre are to be closed at 12 o'clock, and to the wall, so as to prevent their closing, in case of fire. A better plan still would be to have 'swing' doors, to open out of the house, and not to be hung over the fastenings of the doors are liable to be unfastened.

In Montevideo it was believed that the steamer Tacuari had sailed from that port for the purpose of receiving from the Argentine Government the steamer Paysandu and convey Paraguyan and that afterwards she would go to Asuncion.

The 'Reforma Pacifica' states that the Colonel Thompson Treaty of Gerra has covered the rules by which animals of either sex can be bred, according to the Treaty of Commerce, and that any increase his stock of bulls or cows, just as he requires one or the other to predominate in his herds.

REVOLUTION IN CORRIENTES

We understand that General Caceres commander of the southern frontier, in union with another famous 'caudillo,' Colonel Regnera, has sent a notice to Governor Lagraña, demanding his resignation. It is said they have sent a similar letter to President Mitre, insisting on the necessity of removing the present Governor, for which purpose Colonel Regnera had set out in person for Buenos Ayres. There is, we are aware, a very strong party in opposition to Sr. Lagraña, but they regard as a fool, imbued with such nonsensical ideas as cotton-planting. Most of the peaceably-disposed inhabitants are admirers of the present administration, but there are several turbulent spirits in the capital, and 'caudillos' in the interior. It is rumoured the Governor will resign, for the sake of peace, but the example is demoralising.

PAYSANDU NEWS.

The news from this heroic little town is of the most conflicting character. Some say that at five minutes past 12 o'clock on the 12th, the time specified in Flores's ultimatum, this celebrated fellow attacked attacked the town and was gloriously beaten, whilst others say that he has abandoned and given up the place, but means to starve the garrison out. If he resorts to the latter mode, he will be probably for the next five years before the town, as it is rumoured that there are comestibles in that town for at least five or six years.

The 'Urbano' and other papers are making a great noise about the attack on the Villa del Salto, and the important victory gained over the 'blancos;' but if our information is correct this great hero with all his men was unable to capture even a disabled steamboat. To such an extent are the lies circulated regarding the prowess of Flores, that we can believe nothing. Flores must be very weak indeed if even the places he takes he cannot hold. Whilst he was attacking Paysandu, a handful of blancos entered Fray Bentos and turned every 'colorado' out of it. This shows pretty clearly the extent of Flores's power. The luckiest bit made this long time was the capture of Don Francisco Duron, who in company with Lamela's son and another man were passing down in a goleta or schooner. Duron had 1700 bolivianos and half a dozen of other silvers, which we understand the Oriental librarian regarded with peculiar pleasure. Flores was in such a good humour at this that he gave a sort of 'tertulia de confianza' one evening in a neighbouring cabbage garden, and sent an old woman and the Villa del Salto betook to an island.

Flores has hurried back to retake Fray Bentos, having heard that the blancos had returned. Gomez Gomez is marching up to give Flores battle.

LATEST FROM ROSARIO

The arrival of the 1st Battalion from Cordoba, caused some alarm, owing to a rumour that it was infected with fever. The 'Forro-Carril' states the alarm was unfounded, but complains of the large number of women brought with the troops, which considerably impeded their march, and reflected disadvantageously on the morality of the corps. Dr. Olguin certifies that there are only 28 sick among the soldiers, and bad cases.

The news from Salta is satisfactory: the 8th Battalion is to be sent to guard the frontier, especially at acent to the Rivadavia colony. Sr. Lavarello is expected shortly to descend the Vermejo.

Tucuman there was excessive heat, the thermometer reaching 108 in the shade, followed by abundant rains. The Banu has solicited from Govern ment a return of the annual exports of the province, in order to calculate the number of steamers requisite for the freight dues the Salado.

PROCLAMATION OF FLORES.

Soldiers!—We are in front of Paysandu, one of the most important points of the litoral, and in the very heart of the Blanco faction, to the north of Rio Negro.

The people of Paysandu are left to their fate: the resources on which they counted have failed them—the Villa del Salto has gone to the bottom with 300 infantry, which were coming to their assistance. The stronghold will not be bloody, and, with little bloodshed, we shall plant the standard of liberty upon the walls which were of no avail against your buyonet charge of 1846.

I impress upon you the necessity of discipline and morality—be consistent with the motto on your banners, 'Libertad y Ley' order.'

Respect the peaceful inhabitants—above all, respect property—and thus you will falsify the calumnies of your enemies, and gain the respect of strangers, who sympathize with you in your hardships, and rejoice in your triumphs.

Do not doubt it! The reward of virtue will be the more secure, as it certain the punishment which follows the want of order and morality, as necessary to conquer.

Inhabitants of Paysandu! in accordance with your just common interests, I shall look upon as enemies only such as are found armed, fighting against your interests.

VENANCIO FLORES.
JOSE G. FUNTANEDO, SEC.
In front of Paysandu,
Jan. 1, 1864.

The above bombastic address was showered into the town by means of alcoholic balooons. Flores, however, has not yet found that Paysandunos were not to be bamboozled by his blarney.

We forgot to mention the other day in our account of the attack on Paysandu, that the heroic 42 men of Lamegas were led on to the charge by an intrepid washerwoman.

Buenos Ayres Circumlocution Office.

To whom the honor of introducing the system is due, we know not; but whoever it may be deserves great credit for the admirable way in which the theory of 'how best to do a thing' is carried out in the Custom-house. We happened to witness the praiseworthy manner in which this office sparing no trouble, puts as many obstacles in the way of merchants as it possibly can.

Some of the rules which most attracted our attention are as follows:—

Should a merchant, with malice prepense for wants of knowledge, pay by an accident or oversight on the part of the shipper), receive a package, of the contents of which he is ignorant and later he be able to manifest it, he has to hunt up an inspector de Almacen: a man who seemingly has perfectly settled all the nooks and crannies of this city, and knows to perfection the city, and knows to perfection the exact spots where it is not likely to be found; and when found, it is not likely to be found; and when found, it is not likely to be caught, after being duly bagged, the merchant has to employ the eloquence of a Cicero, and the logic of a Bishop Whately, to induce him to accept pany him. This appeal is generally met with feeble remonstrances on the state of the weather. 'It's too hot,' or 'It's too cold,' 'too much dust,' 'too much dust and a powerful sun' finishing up with 'Let us go, although I do so under protest.' Sometimes the inspector, you are forcing me to do a thing my very soul abhors—my duty.' If, when arriving at the Deposit, the packages be not ready opened, he has to go to slanging the unfortunate merchant's clerk, telling him to hold his tongue, although the man has not opened his mouth.

The short and pleasing operation of opening a package, in order to manifest its contents, only occupies one day, and who is there so unreasonable as to find fault with this perfection of 'not doing?' It is true that this can scarcely be cited as a fair specimen of the other public offices in the Custom-house, but it affords one of the most important branches of the Administration, and in the inferior offices the politeness and regularity in 'not doing' may be found.

Perhaps some of that hard-to-please body of the community, 'merchants,' might desire, in the smallness of their spite, to see the state of affairs overturned, and things allowed to be done, not left undone; but these grumblers, if such a class of miscreants do exist, would be very unfavorably looked on by very small item in the population of 'quien sabe' and 'mañana Portenos.

Hospitality Worthy of Honor.

With pleasure we congratulate the National Government on the strenuous efforts they are making to elevate the profession of arms to a dignified level.

We have just been told that the study of mathematics and artillery to be established under the care of the respected and scientific Don Mariano Balcarce, late President of the Topographical Department. It is some time since Señor Moreno first thought of this important step, and now, in spite of all the difficulties he had to encounter, he has succeeded in carrying his point. The Sergeant Major Bejobuena and his 'gauchos' have been called to two youths of the furthest advancements in their studies, and who, in the opinion of their Chiefs merit this distinction, on account of their aptitude in acquiring knowledge of the profession which they have chosen. The two young men chosen are Don José Soto and Don N Cordova: much may be expected of the two, judging from the merits they display.

This country may well be pleased with the National Government, and especially with the distinguished Sr. Moreno.

STATE OF THE CAMPS

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

In reference to your remarks on the state of the camps, would you allow me to say, that a large proportion of the camps in the Capital were good before the rain of Saturday, and now, instead of being worse, are quite the reverse. As to Mr. Ferrer, and his 9 dollar sheep, I think some of the 'bears' have been taking a squeeze out of him. Furthermore, I would observe that,—comparatively speaking,—the losses have not been so great, but the hard ships endured by moving, &c., immense, and I would suggest that great care should be taken in believing current rumours. The camps, of course, are in a terrible state, but there are ex ceptions, and timely moving has saved losses.

Yours,
CAPELLERO.

A Greenhorn's View of Sheep-farming near Buenos Ayres.

Time—January 1862.

Hotel Globo, Jan. 10, 1864.

My dear Editor,

A league of camp horsebacke, I thought a very fine thing. It has cost, or was valued at, about a million of paper dollars. The owner, hitherto, has held his head high up in the air, and received with condescension the blond, business smile of his bankers, as he dropped in, 'Well, money,' and in answer to the respectful inquiry of 'how is the camp looking?' &c., every 'very well,' indeed, I have 25,000 sheep on my land, and I mean to increase to 30,000 this year.' Little did that enthusiast, in the pride of his heart, behold the ruin of his manager, that there were sheep enough there already, and that grass at times came somewhat short: and less did he think about what the loss would entail upon to provide for the existing 25,0 0 sheep: he did not take his pencil and calculate that 25,000 sheep require 6lbs. of grass each per day for their sustenance, which comes to 75 tons per day; and, bless me, is it possible? 27,375 tons per year, and, for the sake that is about 5 tons of grass to each acre, where is the land that can do it regularly? About water, I know there are two small ponds, which, of course, must be always enough for the animals. At two pints a day each, how much does one hold? Say a long sum, but here goes: 50,000 pints of 25,000 quarts, 6,250 gallons per day, and for the year, 2,281,250 gallons—enough, I should be about 45,000 tons, and then there is the evaporation, which in summer takes away half an inch a day. Heavens! I hope it will rain for half an hour every night when I am in bed. I think I had better not increase the stock. However (he would say) that is a trifle, and it is time to dress for the Theatre—ball, I wonder if Louisa — — will be there. She is a splendid girl, and I flatter myself I like her. Don Carlos is a good deal, poor fellow, 'tis, ha, ha! Te certain drops on 18 s, and rises again.

January 1 64.—Estanciera is at his bankers, and are polite, but of late rather stiff, in their manner. After 'good morning,' he is requested to walk this way a moment. On entering the manager's room, he is confident that his account is a long way overdrawn, must adhere to the rules of the Banks &c. Would say nothing but Louisa — — out him; yes, out him dead, as he passed her on his way home (but he saw that Don Carlos receive a most graceful bow), when he found another of those horrid letters from Mr. Brown, the manager. It ran thus:—

Buenos Ayres Arena, January 1861—Dear Sir—Since my last, the sheep have been dying away fa t, over 10,000 are dead up to this date, the remainder are so far weak to move a league towards the camp outside of the town (informed me of in your last letter.) I am sorry to say, Sir, that the only way to save the stock alive, is to send up funds to buy bided hay for them; 2 lbs. is the smallest quantity per head per day, to head any use, which for 15,000 will come to 30,000 lbs., or 13 tons, which at 5 0 dollars the ton (Spanish), comes to 7,5 0 dollars a day. Now, as the sheep would require the hay for the next two months, please to draw for 460,000 dollars, which is the exact sum I shall require for 61 days. I am sorry to say, that there is plenty of water now, but water on an empty stomach does not agree with either Mrs. B—— or me, or the sheep.

Yours dockedly errant,
JOHN BROWN.

Estanciero, empting Mr. and Mrs. J. B's stomachs, but feeling his own a little queasy, made a calculation on the first time in his life: thus 15,000 sheep at 40 dollars come to 6 0,000 dollars; subtract to keep them alive for two months, 450,0 0 dollars; leaves but 150,0 0 dollars, which makes their present value 10 dollars a head. These figures, and the receipt of the letter quoted by the faithless Louisa, drove the poor fellow mad. He made up his mind to sell the camp, sheep, and all, and travel and forget his sorrows. On reaching his banker's, he was informed that just now for camp and sheep there were no buyers—all sellers—and no buyers—but that perhaps 250,000 dollars for the land and 15 dollars a head for the sheep might be obtained in a few days. Where he retired to after leaving the office, no one knows, except John Brown.

Now, Mr. Editor, at the risk of being called a fool by all the owners of land and sheep in Buenos Ayres, I will state what I think. Estanciero was worth, some time ago, as follows:—one league of land 900,000 dollars; 25,000 sheep at 40 dollars, 1,000,000 dollars; and house, mules, pucata, corrales, &c., 250,000—altogether, 2,250,000 dollars; which, if he had retained and worked out here on mortgage, with good security, at ten per cent., he would have had an income of 225,000 dollars a year, and if he made out of his league that regularly, year after year, I am much mistaken. Even if he had confined himself to 15,000 sheep on his league, he would not be the unhappy man he is now, with his sheep scratching up the roots of the grass in search after food, thus destroying future prospects. I think the true value of a league of the best camp in Buenos Ayres is 20 0,0 0 dollars, and sheep are over 15,000 on it it one too many. If a man confines himself to that number, he need not fear the drought, for one quite certain that there is no league of land in this country that will go on for ever sustaining five sheep to each acre; and I hold the man who attempts to place that number on it to be a greater fool than myself.

Yours, &c.,
ERIN.

P.S.—In Rughuil, on a good acre of grass three sheep during the best summer months would be thought sufficient. In Australia, one to an acre, and sometimes one to two acres. Sheep farmers should provide themselves with ten times the alfalfa they do.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA SHEEP FARMS.

The sheep-farming interest of the colony has suffered somewhat from the destruction of the trouble some exercise known as the scab. This disease which was imported from Victoria, is very contagious and spread with great rapidity. The first proposal was in conformity with the provisions of an existing Act—to destroy all infected flocks, and compensate the owners. But the Government dallied with the enforcement of the law, and the sheep farmers themselves disputed as to its propriety, meanwhile the disease rapidly spread, and, after much wavering, it has been finally decided that there are no means of curing the disease, but it expedient to slaughter them. A stringent Act, borrowed from the neighboring colonies of Victoria and South Australia, is to be passed, prohibiting sheep-owners, under heavy and increasing penalties, to cure their sheep, and inflicting heavy fines for allowing diseased sheep to stray or travel. It is hoped that in the course of 12 months the disease may be substantially got under, when restrictions on the removal sheep-farmers shake their heads at the prospect and declare that it was a fatal mistake not to have extirpated the disease at once, at whatever cost. Sheep runs have necessarily become somewhat depreciated in price and difficult for sale, and the banks have largely restricted their accommodation.

There has been no further development of our gubliicels, and trade is rather dull. No one can form an opinion of our colonial trade just now is the development of our coulields. Many now or more have been opened, and the transport has led to a reduction in price, as well as to an improvement in quality.

THE EXODUS.

The past week has witnessed, probably, the climax of the emigration from the country through Queenstown. No less than five ocean steamers left this port between the Monday morning and Saturday evening, for the United States and Canada; conveying about 1,500 persons, the most of whom were actively belonging to the working classes. The inducements to emigrate still continue the same—discontent, uncertainty of a remunerative labour, and the gaps at home contrasted with cheap land, high priced labour, and a propitious climate abroad. The first and last mentioned are the chief attractions to the farmers of this country, and they are frequently known to surrender their farms to the highest bidder at a premium, when to hold them under lease, or sell their interest in them at a sacrifice, in order that while a little capital is left them, and before it may be considerably diminished by labour and rent, they may take it with them across the Atlantic, and there invest it to advantage. Many of the young men who now constitute about a majority of the emigrants, purpose devoting themselves to manual labour, which is now so highly remunerative in the States. Females are more numerous than ever, and children muster pretty strong at each shipping, as most parents are encouraging their parents. Indeed, the remission of Irish families (that have been for years separated by the ocean) in the United States appears to be the taking place most extensively, while there are as many adventurers agriculturists betaking to North America, as though it were some of El Dorado but recently become known to these countries. The counties in Ireland which contribute the largest quota to the present exodus are Tipperary, Limerick, Clare, and Kerry. The emigration from Cork has almost ceased, the number now going from Kerry has somewhat decreased during the past few weeks, but the exodus from the other counties we have named still continues unabated.—Cork Herald.

Oriental Steamers.—The Treinta y tres and the Artigas were still in port with the troops which had been shipped on board of them.

WEXFORD.

We publish to-day (Saturday) the most important intelligence that it was ever our good fortune to communicate to our readers—the first step towards the development of our country's great resources, and the opening of the great line of communication between the two Islands, which nature points out as the shortest, safest and most advantageous that line yet been adopted. We allude, of course, to the notice in our first page for continuing the Wexford and Passage Railway through our county to Gronare—the contraction of a pocket station at the latter place—the notice for completing the line from Enniscorthy to this town—and the Grand Central Terminus at Slaney-street, where all the lines will unite. Some names of world-wide fame and usefulness are associated with these important projects that are sufficient to give a warranty for the success of any undertaking they espouse. Thousands upon thousands will be added to the property of the county from the moment these projects are set in motion—English capital will pour into our peaceful boundaries—field will be spotted by fieldsome and well-directed enterprise—and labour will receive its just reward; but the most sanguine can hardly anticipate the bright and happy future that now presents itself in not very distant perspective to this hitherto landlocked and neglected county. We have full reason to be proud of this issue, as we had to encounter ridicule, misrepresentation and hostility for years, before we looked beyond the snail's orbit, and presumed to take a wide and comprehensive view of the incomparable advantages bestowed on us by an all wise and beneficent Providence, but allowed to remain in abeyance by a variety of causes that it would serve no good purpose to enumerate. Dublin to London via Wexford in ten hours is now on the cards, and that, too, with only two hours' sea passage.—Wexford Independent.

LOCAL EVENTS.

The Pascarel, which arrived from Montevideo on the morning of the 21st inst., brings the following intelligence: the police, by order of the Government, has given the inhabitants and neighbours of the market place 24 hours' notice to quit. It is supposed that this is a preliminary step to Bozzo's erecting batteries, as it is pretty evident that he intends building a strong line of defences. fy Serafin Hibson and Sr. Fontan, from Goya; Sr. Cordoba, Secretary to Bolivian Legation at Asuncion; D. Tomas Penaloza, from Rosario to S. Pedro; D. Emilio Martinez de Hoz, from Las Hermanas.

General Remarks on the Wool Market.—The announcement of an Auction Sale of California Wool, to take place on 12th inst., had the effect, as is generally the case, of keeping buyers out of the market, and transactions in the meantime were limited. The sale was well attended, and excellent prices realized; there being spirited competition for the most desirable parcels. There have been imported 1,600 bales from Cape Town and Algoa Bay, three cargoes of Cape wool, 2,400 bales, all of which is reported sold on private terms, but supposed to be from 14 to 15 cts. per lb.? This description of wool is in favor with our manufacturers, and can always be readily sold if offered comparatively cheaper than domestic wools.

Domestic Fleece Wool still rules high and as the markets in the East advance, our Western farmers put up their prices, thus constantly keeping the western market the highest. There are not reported as heavy transactions as in October, no doubt caused by the 45 cts. per lb.? This description of wool is in favor with our manufacturers, and can always be readily sold if offered comparatively cheaper than domestic wools.

This description of wool is in favor with our manufacturers, and can always be readily sold if offered comparatively cheaper than domestic wools.

The market generally is inactive and as one to have come to a pause, although the manufacturers still find a profitable market and ready sale for their produce. No decline in prices is anticipated, and as gold in the last ten days has been rising, there may be an advance in woods, as in all kinds of merchandize.

Great Influx of Emigrants.—In the last two days the population of the country has been increased by no less than 652 emigrants of all nations. Even supposing that the doctrines of Malthus gained ground in these provinces, the tide of new comers at this rate would serve to keep the country populated. There is still room enough for all.

Sun Vicloa.—The inhabitants of the parish of San Telmo are very concerned at the unwelcome on Sr. French's having resolved his resignation of the post of juez de paz of that vicinity.

Elections.—It is expected that the 'coalition' will gain the elections at San Nicolas, Pilar, Ranchos, Chivilcoy, Chascomus, Azul, and a few other places; whilst the 'crudos' are expected to win those of Villa Mercedes, Luxan, and other central districts. We hear no money has changed hands freely from both parties. In town, probably the 'coalitos' will win, but parties are about equally strong.

El Pueblo—It is sincerely to be hoped that this new periodical shall survive the treatment which it is likely to suffer at the hands of the 'Tribuna' and the 'Nacional.' These two newspapers do not intend to take any notice of this bantling, but treat it with silent scorn; as 'El Pueblo,' both from its mental and the number of its able assistants, over 1,000, promises to be a giant. This is like reversing the myth—Minerva—the serpents hope to strangle Hercules.

Steamer Igurey—This Paraguayan steamer has ceased running to Asuncion and now plies regularly between Buenos Ayres, the 10th inst., when she will resume her customary route at the usual hour.

Martin Garcia—The 25 de Mayo arrived at Martin Garcia on the morning of the 14th from Paysandu, where she had assisted the wounded who were on board of the 'Villa de Salto,' the latter vessel had taken up 400 men from Salto to Paysandu, but it was said that she could not land her men owing to the fire which was having itself the beach, and commenced an attack on the steamer by raking her with hot potatoes.

Decisive de Buenos Ayres.—The 8th number of this periodical has been published; and each succeeding number seems more interesting than its predecessor. We shall review it at our earliest convenience.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS

Dor—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronized by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is at present superintendent of an English School, but a sound commercial education is also combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages (imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

Strict moral conduct and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, Drawing, Music and Dancing are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most retired Quarters of the Calle Larga of Barracas, and the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

For particulars apply for prospectuses at the Stand and Office, Calle Belgrano 74.
